Transition-to-Work

Students
Learn and Partner
with businesses
and non-profits
in the Community

STUDENTS VOLUNTEER USING THEIR WORK AND INDEPENDENT LIVING SKILLS TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN THE COMMUNITY

Caring and Thoughtful...Contagious Smiles...
Compassionate and Joyful...

These words describe our students as they assist many small businesses and service groups in our local community through their Transition-to-Work Program.

Students reach out with heart in service. With an inner spirit of joy, with a growing sense of independence and self-responsibility and with trust, self-motivation and encouraging support, they feel grounded in who they are as contributing members of the community.

You might see Clelian Heights students at work sorting or hanging clothes, doing light cleaning and dusting, computer and clerical work; distributing meals, preparing bulk mailings, involved in dining room set-up or dietary or laundry assistance, sorting food and packing boxes; feeding, watering and caring for horses; distributing food samples, washing cars, reading to nursing home residents.

All these volunteer activities take place in the local community:

In Pittsburgh area: at Thriftique and Intervala

In Murrysville: at Cornerstone Ministries

In New Alexandria: at Horseman's Hideaway

In Delmont: at the Delmont Library

In Jeannette: at Peinetti's Bakery

In Greensburg: at St. Emma Retreat Center
